Summer 2009 Chapter Meeting

Wednesday, July 29, 2009

Garden Visit

Dick & Irene Ward

501 Upland Road, Louisville 40206

7:00 pm

Dick and Irene have done wonders with their shady, hilly garden environment over the past 7 years. Come get inspired!

Confirm your plans to attend and get directions or carpooling information at 502-897-2485 or r.harned@insightbb.com!

You won't want to miss this meeting opportunity! The chapter visited with master gardeners Dick & Irene Ward several years ago, but they haven't stopped adding improvements! Come get some ideas for your own challenging environment! On-street parking is available along Upland road on the uphill side - it might be best to drive on up the hill and turn around so you can park on the right coming down!

July 25 marks our Tenth Anniversary in Wildflower Woods! Ward is challenging us to think about how to celebrate - and about how we'd like to carry on into the future!

New Member Lois Nolan has brought the Indiana Native Plant and Wildflower Society into my awareness - check out their website at www.inpaws.org! They are hosting a "first annual" Gardening with Natives tour in Indianapolis on Saturday, July 18; details can be obtained via the website.

Teddie Phillipson of U of L's Environmental Education Program has provided a heads-up for the Bioneers conference that will be hosted at the University this next October. She has asked if we want to be involved in organizing a Seed Exchange in association with that conference. I've never been involved in a seed exchange; I hope we'll have an opportunity to share thoughts about the idea at the July 29 meeting. If you have thoughts about it in advance of the meeting, please feel free to email me at r.harned@insightbb.com.
